GERMANY'S BUILDING AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Reproduction of Old Castle Built by Frederick I, of Prussia.

The plans for the German National Pavilion at the World's Fair, St. Louis have been completed and submitted to the Director of Works, Isaac S. Taylor, for approval. It has been the endeavor of the German Government to keep the architecture of the building in harmony with the Exposition buildings in the immediate vicinity. The pavilion will be a fairly accurate reproduction of the Central portion of the royal castle at Charlottenburg, near Berlin. This old castle occupies a conspicuous place in the history of German architecture. It was built about the end of the 17th century for and under the direction of Frederick I., first King of Prussia. The castle was designed by Andreas Schluter, the greatest German architect of that period.

The architecture of the Charlottenburg Castle is imposing. The main facade is in two stories, crowned by an enormous stilted dome. The facade of the first floor is in rustic stone. The second floor is ornamented with engaged Corinthian columns. In the center of the facade is a projecting bay crowned by a beautiful classic pediment.

The drum of the dome, which is also surrounded by a Corinthian engaged colonnade, is higher than one of the stories of the building. The curve of the dome is broken by six bull's eye windows and is crowned by a towering lantern surrounded by a sculptured figure.

In the pavilion the ground floor will be used for reading, writing, office and reception purposes. The second floor has been set aside for purposes of representation. It will embrace an actual reproduction of the state rooms of the Castle of Charlottenburg. These rooms will be fitted up with precious old furniture, Gobelins, and silve ornaments, the products of bygone days. In a separate building but with connected with it will be a restaurant and a "Kneipstube" a combination of smoking room, drinking room, restaurant and fraternal society lodge room. This subsidiary building will harmonize completely with the architecture of the main structure and will be connected with it by an alley.

WHEN LIQUID AIR IS SOLD

Is Delivered in Berlin for Thirty-Five Cents a Gallon.

Liquid air is delivered in Berlin two liters (528 gallon) at a time for about 35 cents. In a recent issue of Energie, of that city, it is stated that the receptacles are made of glass with double walls, the space between the walls being filled with an insulating material, the walls being silvered to prevent radiation of heat and the whole enveloped in an insulating material. They retain their temperature for fourteen days. Several drops in a glass of water produce freezing, and it is intended for such uses as refreshing drinks and improving the condition of the air in sick rooms.

AN ARMY OF MEN

Made Idle by Strikes in New York City. Loss of Nearly Four Million Dollars Per Week.

New York, May 25.—There are 165,000 idle men in New York City, notwithstanding the fact that every line of business is booming in the city. These men but for strikes, lockouts and dissensions among rival labor unions would be earning a total of $660,000 a day or $3,960,000 a week.

Not only is every penny of this stupendous sum lost to them, but industries and firms representing a total capitalization of $550,000,000 are at a standstill, with a consequent loss of profits.

The trade paralysis here has reached a stage more extensive than any heretofore known, even during periods of great industrial depression.

Most of the workmen are idle, not for any act of their individual unions, but for the acts of other unions or because the recent decision of the employers to stand together and fight the demands of one union by throwing the workmen of many unions into idleness.

Judge Pratt at Flemingsburg

Flemingsburg, Ky., May 25.—Attorney General Clifton J. Pratt was here today in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor. He addressed a large-sized audience at the Courthouse this afternoon and made a good impression.

The race question is a serious one, but the "coon" song problem is a far more serious one and far more difficult of solution.
